THE ⚜ HINDU

Cities » Vijayawada

Published: April 29, 2014 23:27 IST | Updated: April 29, 2014 23:29 IST

IIIT students raring to go for NASA contest

Staff Reporter

Four students of IIIT, Nuzivid, K. Jhansi, Manasa, K. Kinnera and Sk. Ruksana, after being felicitated
Kumar

Of them, Jhansi, is a native of Penumaka village of Tadepalli mandal. The contest is part of the Nati Administration (NASA) 33rd International Space Development Conference (ISDC 2014).

Dressed in shining blazers, the girls looked pretty and confident. Kokkilagadda Jhar Ruksana, students of the Rajiv Gandhi University of Knowledge Technologies (RGU been presented with blazers by Sadiq, managing partner of M&M Showroom, at a pr Space Club of the Vijaya Educational Society.

"It is a token of our appreciation for what the students achieved in a global competit feel happy and confident in their blazers," said Mr. Sadiq.

At a time when India has emerged as a global leader in space technology, these four have done their parents and the school proud after being selected to attend the 33rd

Development Conference (ISDC 2014) at Los Angeles in USA. The conference is part Space Administration (NASA) 33rd International Space Development Conference (IS

Of them, Jhansi, is a native of Penumaka village of Tadepalli mandal. A first year stu won the International Space Settlement Design Contest conducted by the NASA and low-income family, Jhansi needs financial support for her travel to USA.

P. Shantha Murthy, Space Club president, said satellite communication, powered by revolutionised communication technology. India space research programme has suc projects.

Retired general manager of Indian Bank, Somayajulu, Mentor at IIIT, Saleem and po

Keywords: NASA, IIIT students, Guntur, Los Angeles, 33rd International Space Deve 2014).

Printable version | May 13, 2014 2:15:06 PM | http://www.thehindu.com/news/citie
raring-to-go-for-nasa-contest/article5959896.ece

© The Hindu